EDUCATION

Moringa School

Certificate | Certified Software developer

Summary: Graduating from Moringa School's intensive software development program, where I've gained hands-on experience in full-stack web development. The training emphasizes building production-grade applications using React, Node.js, Python, and SQL databases. Through real-world projects and team-based challenges, I've developed strong coding practices, problem-solving skills, and a collaborative mindset well-preparing me for junior-level developer roles.
